Dear Customer,

Please be informed that the packaging on the Shore Mariner Brand Seafood Sticks, Shore Mariner Brand Seafood Salad Mix, Shore Mariner Brand Tempura Seafood Sticks or Markwell Brand Tempura Seafood Sticks (best before dates up to June 2022) does not identify the egg or soy allergens that are present within the products.

The products are safe to consume by all persons other than those with allergies to egg and soy, in addition to the allergens already declared on the packaging.

Due to the allergens not being identified on the packaging they must only be used for either of two purposes, as detailed below.

1. For the production of secondary products that are to be repackaged before being sold to the public.
2. Consumed immediately after preparation (ie at cafes, restaurants, fish & chip shops etc). Customers who enquire about the presence of allergens at such venues must be accurately informed of all allergens within the product.

This product must not be sold directly to the public in its current packaging.

If you have purchased this product already and require product that can be sold directly to the public in its original packaging then please speak to your normal Markwell Foods sales representative who will arrange for your stock to be returned for a credit or replaced with stock in updated packaging that identifies the presence of egg and soy.
